

NOVATEL WIRELESS™

MiFi® 4G LTE Global USB Modem by Novatel Wireless

A tiny and mighty 4G LTE global USB modem powered by the MiFi technology platform.

Light Industrial Use

The ideal tool and simple solution for businesses. Whether reaching customers at Point of Sale, tracking customer behavior, monitoring inventory and equipment or providing data transfer, this mighty USB can do it all, and with no software or drivers to install, implementation is truly plug-and-play.

Enterprise & Government

Enterprise and government users alike can rely on the robust security features, such as parameter tampering prevention, and one-to-one connection. With global connectivity in over 200 countries and more bands than any other USB modem on the market, the U620L is the trusted solution in both the public and private sector.

Personal

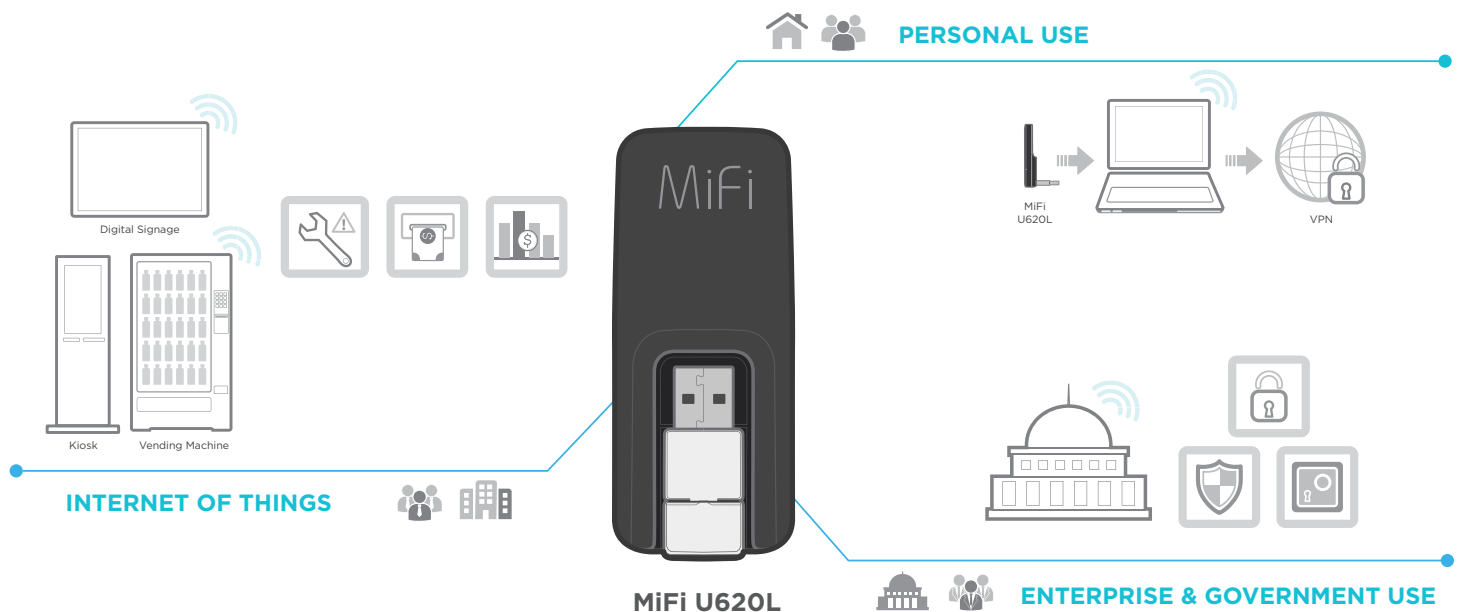

The U620L provides a single 4G LTE connection for individuals on the go. Easily monitor data use from the LED indicator on the device or from the Web interface to ensure you stay within your data plan.

Simple

Just plug it in and connect - seriously, it's that simple. Two helpful LED indicators tell the network status and helps you monitor your data used.

Secure

The U620L delivers a personal connection to the Internet. No passwords, no sharing, no stress. Plus, it's compatible with some of the strictest corporate VPNs, which puts IT managers at ease.
